Lecture—"Multitude: A Democratic Alternative in an Age of Empire"

Miller Chapel 4:30 p.m.

The PTS community is invited to a lecture given by Dr. Michael Hardt, associate professor of literature and Italian, and director of graduate studies, literature program, at Duke University in Durham, North Carolina.

Hardt believes that we are entering "an age of Empire in which the global order is maintained by an interminable state of war. Our traditional struggles for freedom, justice, and democracy seem to be receding ever farther away. There are newly emerging possibilities, however, in our globalizing world for creating an alternative, better society, one in which the multitude is finally able to take control for itself. Such a project is a means to combat our current Empire and find a path to peace."

The lecture is sponsored by the Faithful Practices grant, through the Seminary's Tennent School of Christian Education. For more information, contact Louise Johnson, project coordinator.

Snow Reminders

When snow is predicted or falling, cars are to be removed from the upper level of the parking deck by the end of the academic/work day. The upper (open) levels are considered commuter or daily parking areas and are not for overnight/weekend/long-term parking. Our snow removal staff needs to clear the upper levels, and cars parked there hinder this effort. Students who are away for a weekend, holiday, or break MUST relocate their cars before they leave. Please move them to the lower level, where there is usually plenty of available space. Cars left on the upper (open) level when it snows will be booted or towed at the owner's expense.

Safety during Snow Clearing

Please be aware of the grounds staff while they are working to plow and clear snow from Seminary roads, parking lots, and sidewalks. Stay clear of operating equipment whether you are walking or driving. The operators are concentrating on their work, visibility is not always good, and the noise of the equipment may keep them from hearing shouts or cars.

Parents, please keep children who may be playing outdoors in the snow away from the snow removal trucks and equipment in operation. Also, please make sure your children's toys are safely on the patio, porch, or inside your residence.

Thank you for your cooperation in these matters.

Reporting Maintenance Problems

When reporting a maintenance concern, either by telephone or via email, please remember to give the following information: your name (or student's name if caller is the spouse); residence or building address; and a contact telephone number.

Calls may be placed to the Facilities Office at 497-7778 and emails should be addressed to "facilities." Emergencies should be called in to the security base station/dispatch at 497-7777.

Auditions for Spring Play

This spring, the Speech Communication in Ministry area of the Practical Theology Department will present The Dancers by Horton Foote, a one-act comedy with a cast of seven women and three men. The play explores the transition that young people must make from following the dictates of sheltered family life to making their own independent responsible choices. The anticipation of dancing with a partner in public promotes anxieties and embarrassments, and conflicting desires, which roar through a small town like tornadoes. Questions raised by the play include "How do I gain confidence?" and "What do I have to offer anybody?" Deceptively simple, and often ludicrous, the play offers us a graceful glimpse into growing up. The Dancers, directed by Robert Lanchester, assistant in speech, will be performed Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9 at 8:00 p.m. in the Mackay Auditorium.

Auditions will take place Monday, January 31 through Wednesday, February 2. All members of the Seminary community are welcome to try out. No experience is necessary. Three credits are available to students who enroll in the course SC340, Practical Theology in Drama. You can sign up for auditions at the Speech Office, 103 Templeton Hall.

The cost is $75 per semester. To sign up for a group, contact Carol Belles at 497-7882.

Photographs of Entering Class

The photographs of the entering class, taken during the September orientation, are available for purchase at $7 apiece in the Office of Student Affairs at 210 Templeton Hall. The black and white photographs are 8x10, and there are two poses to choose from. For more information, contact Kathy Perelli at 497-7880.

Lectures—"Listening for the Heartbeat of God: A Celtic Spirituality" and "At the Heart of Matter Is the Heart of God"

Main Lounge 9:00 a.m.–12:30 p.m.

J. Philip Newell, a Scottish minister and scholar who has taken a leading role in recovering the spirituality of the Celtic peoples and the Celtic church, will give two lectures on Celtic spirituality.

Newell's first lecture, "Listening for the Heartbeat of God: A Celtic Spirituality," is on Tuesday February 8 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge. In the Celtic tradition, St. John the Evangelist is especially remembered as the one who leaned against Jesus at the Last Supper. It was said of him that he thus heard the heartbeat of God, and he became an image of the practice of listening within the whole of life for the beat of God's presence. Newell will explore what this tradition offers for the practice of Christian spirituality today.

The second lecture, "At the Heart of the Matter Is the Heart of God," is on Wednesday, February 9 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Main Lounge. The Celtic tradition sees creation as a "theophany" or disclosure of God, and Creation and Scripture as twin-loves. Newell will ask how we hold together our love of Scripture and our love of creation and how we learn to "read" creation and to "handle" it as a sacred text.

Newell is writer/theologian for The Cathedral of The Isles on the island of Cumbrae in Scotland. A Church of Scotland minister and former warden of Iona Abbey, he did his Ph.D. research at the University of Edinburgh in the 1980s in the area of Scottish spirituality. Since then he has played a leading role on both sides of the Atlantic in the recovery of Celtic spirituality for today. His best-selling publications include Listening for the Heartbeat of God and Celtic Benediction.

Family Night at the Pool

The YMCA will hold a family night at the Seminary pool on Friday, March 4 from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Bring the family for an evening of fun and games and find out what the YMCA has to offer to the Seminary community. Please call the YMCA Membership Department at 497-9622, extension 204, to register. The YMCA requests that families register three days in advance for family night at the pool.

For your safety and security, the YMCA is now checking IDs. Remember to bring yours each time you visit the pool.

New Seminary Pool Hours

The YMCA has added additional lifeguard coverage for the Seminary pool and, as such, open swim time at the pool is now extended. The following is the new schedule effective now:

Monday	3:30 to 9:30 p.m.
Tuesday	10:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. 4:30 to 8:30 p.m.
Wednesday	10:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. 3:30 to 9:30 p.m.
Thursday	4:30 to 8:30 p.m.
Friday	10:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. 4:00 to 6:00 p.m.
Saturday	12:00 to 6:00 p.m.
Sunday	12:00 to 3:00 p.m.

Snow Reminders

When snow is predicted or falling, cars are to be removed from the upper level of the parking deck by the end of the academic/work day. The upper (open) levels are considered commuter or daily parking areas and are not for overnight/weekend/long-term parking. Our snow removal staff needs to clear the upper levels, and cars parked there hinder this effort. Students who are away for a weekend, holiday, or break MUST relocate their cars before they leave. Please move them to the lower level, where there is usually plenty of available space. Cars left on the upper (open) level when it snows will be booted or towed at the owner's expense.

Safety during Snow Clearing

Please be aware of the grounds staff while they are working to plow and clear snow from Seminary roads, parking lots, and sidewalks. Stay clear of operating equipment whether you are walking or driving. The operators are concentrating on their work, visibility is not always good, and the noise of the equipment may keep them from hearing shouts or cars.

Parents, please keep children who may be playing outdoors in the snow away from the snow removal trucks and equipment in operation. Also, please make sure your children's toys are safely on the patio, porch, or inside your residence.

Thank you for your cooperation in these matters.

Reporting Maintenance Problems

When reporting a maintenance concern, either by telephone or via email, please remember to give the following information: your name (or student's name if caller is the spouse); residence or building address; and a contact telephone number.

Calls may be placed to the Facilities Office at 497-7778 and emails should be addressed to "facilities." Emergencies should be called in to the security base station/dispatch at 497-7777.

Auditions for Spring Play

This spring, the Speech Communication in Ministry area of the Practical Theology Department will present The Dancers by Horton Foote, a one-act comedy with a cast of seven women and three men. The play explores the transition that young people must make from following the dictates of sheltered family life to making their own independent responsible choices. The anticipation of dancing with a partner in public promotes anxieties and embarrassments, and conflicting desires, which roar through a small town like tornadoes. Questions raised by the play include "How do I gain confidence?" and "What do I have to offer anybody?" Deceptively simple, and often ludicrous, the play offers us a graceful glimpse into growing up. The Dancers, directed by Robert Lanchester, assistant in speech, will be performed Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9 at 8:00 p.m. in the Mackay Auditorium.

Auditions will take place Monday, January 31 through Wednesday, February 2. All members of the Seminary community are welcome to try out. No experience is necessary. Three credits are available to students who enroll in the course SC340, Practical Theology in Drama. You can sign up for auditions at the Speech Office, 103 Templeton Hall.

Public Lecture—"Listening for the Heartbeat of God: A Celtic Spirituality"

Main Lounge 9:00 a.m.–12:30 p.m.

(The lecture begins in the Main Lounge at 9:00 a.m. Students are invited to bring their breakfast to the Main Lounge for an informal discussion with J. Philip Newell prior to the lecture from 8:00 to 9:00 a.m.)

In the Celtic tradition, St. John the Evangelist is especially remembered as the one who leaned against Jesus at the Last Supper. It was said of him that he thus heard the heartbeat of God. He became an image of the practice of listening within the whole of life for the beat of God's presence. What does this tradition offer us for the practice of Christian spirituality today?

J. Philip Newell is a writer/theologian for the Cathedral of The Isles on the island of Cumbrae in Scotland. A Church of Scotland minister and former warden of Iona Abbey, Newell did his Ph.D. research at the University of Edinburgh in the area of spirituality. Since then he has played a leading role on both sides of the Atlantic in the recovery of Celtic spirituality for today.

♦ Wednesday, February 9

Public Lecture—"At the Heart of the Matter Is the Heart of God"

Main Lounge 9:00 a.m.–12:30 p.m.

The Celtic tradition sees creation as a "theophany" or disclosure of God. Creation and Scripture are twin-loves. How do we hold together our love of Scripture and our love of creation? And how do we learn to "read" creation and to "handle" it as a sacred text?

J. Philip Newell is a writer/theologian for the Cathedral of The Isles on the island of Cumbrae in Scotland. A Church of Scotland minister and former warden of Iona Abbey, Newell did his Ph.D. research at the University of Edinburgh in the area of spirituality. These three forums on marriage will raise issues such as the relationship between church and state as related to the institution of marriage, the theology of marriage as a Christian institution, the rights of individuals to choose their own structure for intimate relationships, and the public versus private natures of two individuals' commitment to one another.

◆ Alcohol, Ethics, and Ministry

Would you like to know more about alcohol use, abuse, and addiction as you prepare for ministry? Would you like to consider values around drinking in settings of ministry? Do you know how to help someone who is abusing alcohol or support family members in an intervention? Would you like to learn some of the latest thinking about alcohol as a disease and the brain chemistry of addiction? Do you have a working definition of alcoholism? What about ideas of sin and redemption, and how to help parishioners work through the damage alcohol has caused in family relationships?

The Wholistic Health Initiative is sponsoring a two-part series led by David Erickson, an active church member and the clinical director of a treatment program in Princeton. Erickson regularly leads thought-provoking, multimedia programs on addiction for therapists and congregations. Interested students and others in the Seminary community are invited to one of two introductory lunch forums and a workshop the first Saturday morning of Reading Week. All sessions are free and will be held in the Main Lounge. Attendance at a lunch forum is encouraged but not required for the Saturday workshop.

◆ Using the Challenges of Seminary to Strengthen your Relationship

For many reasons, couples often experience unexpected challenges as they adjust to seminary life. Stressors can include being newly married; being far from family, a beloved church community or old friends; new role configurations in terms of studying, breadwinning, and/or parenting; finances; and creating a new sense of "home" relationally and spiritually.

A five-session group for five couples will be offered Thursday evenings in March and April from 7:00 to 8:15 p.m. Leadership will be provided by Polly Dessertine, a marriage and family therapist with a nursing background, who is active in her Presbyterian church.

The group will provide a supportive, confidential circle to help couples normalize some of the struggles, while strengthening communication and relationship enhancement skills.

For details, please contact Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, director of student counseling, at 497-7890 or nancy.schongalla@ptsem.edu.

Continuing Education Event—"Renewing Our Preaching, Renewing Ourselves"
Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday)–3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

For many preachers, the weekly task of sermon preparation can become drudgery. While seeking to renew the congregation by means of preaching, sermon preparation and presentation week after week can become anything but renewing for the preacher. In this interactive workshop we will consider four key stages of preaching and how we might be renewed in the process. Ultimately, we will seek to rekindle our passion for a lifetime of preaching.

Mike C. Graves, associate professor of homiletics and worship at Central Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

◆ Using the Challenges of Seminary to Strengthen Your Relationship

For many reasons, couples often experience unexpected challenges as they adjust to seminary life. Stressors can include being newly married; being far from family, a beloved church community, or old friends; new role configurations in terms of studying, breadwinning, and/or parenting; finances; and creating a new sense of "home" relationally and spiritually.

A five-session group for five couples will be offered Thursday evenings in March and April from 7:00 to 8:15 p.m. Leadership will be provided by Polly Dessertine, a marriage and family therapist with a nursing background, who is active in her Presbyterian church.

The group will provide a supportive, confidential circle to help couples normalize some of the struggles, while strengthening communication and relationship enhancement skills.

For details, please contact Nancy Schongalla-Bowman, director of student counseling, at 497-7890 or nancy.schongalla@ptsem.edu.

Continuing Education Event—"Renewing Our Preaching, Renewing Ourselves"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday)–3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

For many preachers, the weekly task of sermon preparation can become drudgery. While seeking to renew the congregation by means of preaching, sermon preparation and presentation week after week can become anything but renewing for the preacher. In this interactive workshop we will consider four key stages of preaching and how we might be renewed in the process. Ultimately, we will seek to rekindle our passion for a lifetime of preaching.

Mike C. Graves, associate professor of homiletics and worship at Central Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

His ministry in the Central American republic of El Salvador was characterized by his attention to the poor, his concern for the well-being of children, and the political and social abuse of the government.

His advocacy, which he described as following the example of Jesus, cost him his life. Are we willing to minister for peace and justice as Jesus did, at any cost? Come, let us worship the Lord!

The Association of Latino/Hispanic American Seminarians and Seminarians for Peace and Justice invites the Seminary community to a worship service in remembrance of Archbishop Oscar Arnulfo Romero, pastor and martyr of America.

His ministry in the Central American republic of El Salvador was characterized by his attention to the poor, his concern for the well-being of children, and the political and social abuse of the government.

His advocacy, which he described as following the example of Jesus, cost him his life. Are we willing to minister for peace and justice as Jesus did, at any cost? Come, let us worship the Lord!

Church Drama Production—The Dancers by Horton Foote

The play explores the transition that young people must make from following the dictates of sheltered family life to making their own independent choices. The anticipation of dancing with a partner in public promotes anxieties and embarrassments, and conflicting desires, which roar through a small town like tornadoes. Deceptively simple, and often ludicrous, the play offers us a graceful glimpse of growing up.

The production is staged by Robert Lanchester, assistant in speech.

Spring Choral Concert performed by the Cantate Domino and Jubilate Deo Choirs with organ and orchestra in celebration of Easter, Ascension, and Pentecost

Miller Chapel 8:00 p.m.

Most years the Seminary is able to celebrate Easter as part of our spring concert, but the feasts of Ascension and Pentecost never fall within our academic calendar. This year, for at least one evening, we will suspend our observance of the liturgical calendar and fast-forward through these feasts as well.

A highlight of this year's concert will be the performance of Bach's Easter Cantata Christ lag in Todesbanden (Christ lay in the bonds of death) with orchestra and the Princeton Baroque Soloists. From Bach we make our way through many musical styles right up to the gospel sounds of Moses Hogan. Come to enjoy this musical excursion through the Christian feasts of spring.

"What Does God Want?"—A Dialogue with author Neale Donald Walsch

As part of a series with Jim Wallis and Cornel West on "Prophetic Voices—Healing Visions," Neale Donald Walsch, author of the bestselling Conversations with God series, will visit the Seminary on Monday, April 18 and Tuesday, April 19, and would like to discuss with PTS students a crucial question for our time, "What does God want?" This is the theme of his 16th book, What God Wants: A Compelling Answer to Humanity's Biggest Question, released in March. A lay author from outside the Reformed tradition, Walsch acknowledges that his own answer is "startlingly different." His challenging perspective has caught the attention of readers inside and outside the church, and his first book was translated into 34 languages.

Students who sign up for a discussion group with Walsch will receive a free hardback copy of his new book to preview in preparation for the dialogue. Groups of students will meet with him on Monday, April 18 at 10:40 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. (feel free to bring your lunch) and on Tuesday, April 19 at 10:40 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Most sessions will be held in the Gambrell Room in Scheide Hall. To sign up for one of these theological discussions, contact Teresa Heyer at teresa.heyer@ptsem.edu. Students who preregister can pick up their free book in the Chapel Office.

On Tuesday, April 19 at 8:00 p.m. in the Mackay auditorium, Walsch will give a free lecture on the topic "A Perspective on Global Healing: What Does God Want?" A book signing outside the auditorium will precede the lecture at 7:15 p.m.

Walsch will also speak on Monday, April 18 at 7:00 p.m. at Trinity Cathedral in Trenton, New Jersey. For more information, please call 609-392-3805, extension 100.

Both lectures are open to the public. The "Prophetic Voices—Healing Visions" events are sponsored by the Wholistic Health Initiative and Seminararians for Peace and Justice.

Public Lecture—"The Healing of the Nation"

Jim Wallis, founded Sojourners—Christians for Justice and Peace—more than 30 years ago. He continues to serve as editor for Sojourners magazine covering faith, politics, and social change. In 1995, he was instrumental in forming "Call to Renewal," a national federation of churches, denominations, and faith-based organizations from across the theological and political spectrum working to overcome poverty. Speaking at more than 200 events a year, from grassroots town meetings to gatherings of political and religious leaders all over the world, Wallis also offers regular commentary and analysis for radio and television and teaches a course at Harvard University on "Faith, Politics, and Society." His new book, God's Politics: Why the Right Gets It Wrong and the Left Doesn't Get It, has received tremendous response.

On Tuesday, April 26, Wallis will sign books at 3:45 p.m. outside the Mackay Auditorium, and will speak on "The Healing of the Nation" at 4:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Later that evening, at 8:00 p.m., Wallis and Dr. Cornel West, The Class of 1943 University Professor of Religion at Princeton University, will dialogue on the topic of "Religion and Politics" in McCosh Hall #50 on the Princeton University campus. West is a theologian, activist, prolific author, and compelling speaker. His best-selling books Race Matters and Democracy Matters highlight his ongoing mission for racial equality and recognition of democracy as a spiritual force.

The book signing and lecture/dialogue are open to the public and free of charge. Sponsoring groups include PTS's Wholistic Health Initiative and Seminars for Peace and Justice, who are partnering with the Office of Religious Life at Princeton University in the Wallis-West dialogue. Erdman Hall 7:15-9:30 p.m.

In this Thursday night series for laity, the discussion will center on how Christians make moral decisions in general and in relation to the Ten Commandments in particular. At least one moral issue will be addressed for each commandment. We will also discuss whether the commandments should be posted in the public realm and how the commandments are presented culturally in movies, books, and on television. Throughout the series we will follow the first and second "tables" of the Ten Commandments, examining how our relationship with God (commandments one through four) informs our responsibilities toward one another (commandments five through ten).

Nancy J. Duff, PTS's Stephen Colwell Associate Professor of Christian Ethics, will lead this event.

As part of a series with Jim Wallis and Cornel West on "Prophetic Voices—Healing Visions," Neale Donald Walsch, author of the bestselling Conversations with God series, will visit the Seminary on Monday, April 18 and Tuesday, April 19, to discuss with PTS students a crucial question for our time, "What does God want?" Continuing Education Event—"Salt of the Earth: Churches of the Middle East"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday)–3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

The headlines are full of news about the Middle East, but rarely do we hear about the local Christian minority. Who are they? What is their history and where do they come from? How does the day-to-day situation in the Middle East affect them? Why is it that the Palestinian-Israeli conflict takes center stage? What are the biblical, theological, ethical, and moral implications? What is really at stake? What does faithful engagement by Western Christians look like?

In addition to the topics above, we will also have the opportunity to peer into the lives of Palestinian Christians. We will have a live internet chat with Palestinian clergy and will watch segments from the Sanderses' documentary film, Salt of the Earth: Palestinian Christians in the Northern West Bank.

Marthame and Elizabeth Sanders, missionaries-in-residence with the Presbyterian Church (USA), will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.

Public Lecture—"The Healing of the Nation"

Jim Wallis founded Sojourners—Christians for Justice and Peace—more than 30 years ago. He continues to serve as editor for Sojourners magazine covering faith, politics, and social change. In 1995, he was instrumental in forming "Call to Renewal," a national federation of churches, denominations, and faith-based organizations from across the theological and political spectrum working to overcome poverty. Speaking at more than 200 events a year, from grassroots town meetings to gatherings of political and religious leaders all over the world, Wallis also offers regular commentary and analysis for radio and television and teaches a course at Harvard University on "Faith, Politics, and Society." His new book, God's Politics: Why the Right Gets It Wrong and the Left Doesn't Get It, has received tremendous response.

On Tuesday, April 26, Wallis will sign books at 3:45 p.m. outside the Mackay Auditorium, and will speak on "The Healing of the Nation" at 4:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Later that evening, at 8:00 p.m., Wallis and Dr. Cornel West, The Class of 1943 University Professor of Religion at Princeton University, will dialogue on the topic of "Religion and Politics" in McCosh Hall #50 on the Princeton University campus. West is a theologian, activist, prolific author, and compelling speaker. His best-selling books—Race Matters and Democracy Matters—highlight his ongoing mission for racial equality and recognition of democracy as a spiritual force.

The book signing and lecture/dialogue are open to the public and free of charge. Sponsoring groups include PTS's Wholistic Health Initiative and Seminars for Peace and Justice, who are partnering with the Office of Religious Life at Princeton University in the Wallis-West dialogue. Throughout the series we will follow the first and second "tables" of the Ten Commandments, examining how our relationship with God (commandments one through four) informs our responsibilities toward one another (commandments five through ten).

Nancy J. Duff, PTS's Stephen Colwell Associate Professor of Christian Ethics, will lead this event.

◆ Tuesday, April 26 Public Lecture—"The Healing of the Nation"

Jim Wallis founded Sojourners—Christians for Justice and Peace—more than 30 years ago. He continues to serve as editor for Sojourners magazine covering faith, politics, and social change. In 1995, he was instrumental in forming "Call to Renewal," a national federation of churches, denominations, and faith-based organizations from across the theological and political spectrum working to overcome poverty. Speaking at more than 200 events a year, from grassroots town meetings to gatherings of political and religious leaders all over the world, Wallis also offers regular commentary and analysis for radio and television and teaches a course at Harvard University on "Faith, Politics, and Society." His new book, God's Politics: Why the Right Gets It Wrong and the Left Doesn't Get It, has received tremendous response.

On Tuesday, April 26, Wallis will sign books at 3:45 p.m. outside the Mackay Auditorium, and will speak on "The Healing of the Nation" at 4:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Later that evening, at 8:00 p.m., Wallis and Dr. Cornel West, The Class of 1943 University Professor of Religion at Princeton University, will dialogue on the topic of "Religion and Politics" in McCosh Hall #50 on the Princeton University campus. West is a theologian, activist, prolific author, and compelling speaker. His bestselling books—Race Matters and Democracy Matters—highlight his ongoing mission for racial equality and recognition of democracy as a spiritual force.

The book signing and lecture/dialogue are open to the public and free of charge. Sponsoring groups include PTS's Wholistic Health Initiative and Seminarians for Peace and Justice, who are partnering with the Office of Religious Life at Princeton University in the Wallis-West dialogue. For more information about the book signing and lecture, go to www.ptsem.edu/know/healingvisions. For more information about the Wallis-West dialogue, go to www.godspolitics.com.

◆ Monday, May 2 and Tuesday, May 3 Continuing Education Event—"Storytelling as a Resource in Pastoral Care"

Erdman Hall

10:45 a.m. (Monday) to 3:00 p.m. (Tuesday)

"Modern" pastoral care long held to the maxims of so-called "non-directive" methods in pastoral conversation and counseling. In more recent years, a variety of new approaches have been added to the pastor's models for assistance. Most of those newer options continued to be drawn from therapeutic models, including family systems therapy, cognitive therapy, narrative therapy, grief counseling, etc. Stories, however, have been neglected as a means of giving expression to concerns not easily articulated. This seminar will examine storytelling from several perspectives, including attention to the "art" of storytelling, sources for sacred stories, and suggestions for using stories to elicit perspectives not always conscious or well-articulated in the minds of parishioners receiving care. There will be brief presentations, discussion, and the opportunity to hear a variety of sacred stories. This Victor L. Baer Seminar on Pastoral Care was established through the generosity of Victor L. Baer, Princeton Theological Seminary Class of 1944, and Mary L. Baer, both of Lititz, Pennsylvania.

William V. Arnold, associate pastor for senior adults at Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, will lead this event.

PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events, but advanced registration is required. Most events are free of charge, but some restrictions do apply. Please contact Continuing Education for more information.
